Stone Chewing Stone

Patti Pente
University of Alberta

I spit
stones heavy in my hand
shining from my body

...
About the Author

Patti Pente is an artist and scholar, and an Assistant Professor working at the University of Alberta. She completed her doctoral degree in curriculum studies at the University of British Columbia. She reaches into the pedagogical shifts in meaning that occur when examining personal and professional identity through art process. Her interests also include connections between notions of place and the learning subject, with particular emphasis on contemporary philosophy. In addition, she continues to investigate the nature of physical and virtual experiences of viewing through various technologies that incorporate screens. She approaches these interests through arts-based research methodologies that include painting, poetry, video, and site-specific work. Patti can be contacted at patti.pente@ualberta.ca.